The second paragraph of your Airgram 604 expresses correct understanding of Mr. Porter's endersement inasmuch as HICOG supposed of FRIS operation to date has not required procurement against deliar payment. Should future FRIS operations require procurement of goods or services for deliar payment such would be considered as outside subject agreement and procurable through HICOG only on basis of deliar reimbursement. Replacement or substitution of deliar cost equipment for that now in use if made primarily for use of FRIS would entail deliar reimbursement. International telescommunications, of which the fereign portions are deliar procured, have not been included in assistance rendered and would be available through HICOG in emergency only on reimbursable basis.

Under authorizations presently governing space, goods, and services precured against mark payment would not require reimbursement.
